Spiritual Matters in Marriage

Did you have any grand dreams about marriage growing up? Maybe the high heels and vacuum while the husband left for work with his briefcase? Or long walks on the beach on that surprise spontaneous trip? How about delightful evenings at home with everyone gathered around the dinner table while the father reads the Bible? There's nothing wrong with these ideals exactly, but marriage isn't usually this blissfully easy.

Life has its ups and downs. We've heard many testimonies this year from women who found themselves traveling a road they didn't intend to. Sometimes we end up in a place where we aren't even on the same page as our husbands. When this includes spiritual matters it can get very complicated, confusing, or even hurtful. This month we'll hear from Bonnez Beck, one of our Mentor Moms.

Bonnez will share with us her journey; from her childhood growing up in a blended family to managing her home as she worked and raised two children. Most of all, Bonnez will give us insight into walking through life with a spouse who doesn't lead spiritually or attend church regularly. The Bible tells us in 1 Peter:

"...wives, be subject to your own husbands, so that even if some do not obey the word, they may be won without a word by the conduct of their wives..."

We are called, as women of God, to love and obey our husbands, even when they do not share our convictions. It can be a lonesome and heavy road to travel, but Bonnez has found peace and great joy along the way. Join us as we hear her story and learn how to love and encourage our own husbands in their faith, whether they walk with us or not.

Spiritual Matters & Marriage

Do you want to be a parent but it is taking too long?

Have the doctors diagnosed you as infertile and you just can't wrap your mind around how you have obtained that label?

Have you and your spouse lost passion in the bedroom because you're busy counting days?

Do you wish that you and your spouse were as connected as when you started this arduous journey to making a family?

Have you lost your self and just need a little bit of time and space for rejuvenation?

If you have answered yes to any of those questions please join us for our infertility + marriage conference. We want to help you and encourage you. We want to help you along this path of infertility that is just so draining and lonely.

Space is limited so register now:
